ABOUT ME

Final-year Computer Science and Engineering student with a 9.7 CGPA and strong academic foundation. Consistently a top performer, with achievements including being a course topper in NPTEL certifications. Highly motivated, quick learner, and passionate about exploring the applications of computer science in solving real-world problems. While my strength lies in theoretical knowledge and academic excellence, I am eager to gain practical coding experience and contribute to projects that enhance my skills and add value to the organization
